OF COLOGNE

Faculty of Management, Economics and Social Sciences

Postdoc (f/m/x) – Energy Economics

Chair of energy economics and assistant professorship of energy market design

© 2024 Simon Wegener

We are one of the largest and oldest universities in Europe and one of the most important employers in our region. Our broad range of subjects, the dynamic development of our main research areas and our central location in Cologne make us attractive for students and researchers from around the world. We offer a wide range of career opportunities in science, technology, and administration.

At the chair of energy economics and assistant professorship of energy market design, we are investigating a broad range of energy markets, carriers, and infrastructures, their decarbonization, digitalization, and decentralization, related questions of sector coupling, regulation, and market design, as well as the role of energy in the macro-economy. We closely collaborate with the Institute of Energy Economics (EWI), the Faculty's Key Research Initiative on Sustainable Smart Energy & Mobility (SSEM), and the Faculty's Excellence Cluster ECONtribute.

YOUR TASKS

- » You will contribute to the faculty's research and teaching (4 SWS) in the field of energy economics. In doing so, you are expected to pursue your own independent research agenda, while collaborating with researchers at the EWI, SSEM, and ECONtribute. Teaching tasks would include training for students and doctoral candidates as well as the co-supervision of bachelor and master theses.

YOUR PROFILE

- » You are an economist closely before or after completion of your doctoral degree, with passion for energy topics. You have a track record in energy economics research, ideally demonstrated by at least one publication in a recognized international peer-reviewed journal. You are proficient in econometric or numerical methods. You like thinking independently and working in a team.

WE OFFER

- » A diverse working environment with equal opportunities
- » Support in balancing work and family life
- » Extensive advanced training opportunities
- » Occupational health management offers
- » Flexible working time models, full-time positions suitable for job sharing
- » Opportunity to work remotely

The University of Cologne is committed to equal opportunities and diversity. Women are especially encouraged to apply and will be considered preferentially in accordance with the Equal Opportunities Act of North Rhine-Westphalia (Landesgleichstellungsgesetz – LGG NRW). We also expressly welcome applications from people with disabilities / special needs or of equal status.

The position is available immediately on a full-time basis (39,83 hours per week). The position is limited for a fixed term of two years. If the applicant meets the relevant wage requirements and personal qualifications, the salary is based on remuneration group 13 TV-L of the pay scale for the German public sector.

Please apply online with proof of the required qualifications without photo under: <https://jobportal.uni-koeln.de>. The reference number is Wiss2404-15. The application deadline is 31.05.2024. For further inquiries, please contact Ms. Monika Räthe (raethe@wiso.uni-koeln.de).
